Training

If you are offered a scholarship our Flying School Operations Manager will work with you to arrange suitable dates for your flying training.

If you are selected for a scholarship, you must satisfy yourself that you are able and willing to undergo flying training to the determined standard at the point you are offered the scholarship, if you have any concerns or doubts they must be raised with us immediately.

Prior to commencing training, you must discuss with us if there has been any deterioration in your health. Such matters will always be treated confidentially.

Given that the weather limits the availability of flying time, and that we have to manage the flight training diaries, it is important that you have a good degree of flexibility to allow us to schedule your flying training. All lessons must be booked through the operations desk at the Goodwood Aerodrome and must be booked in 2025.

You must read the Goodwood Flying School operations manual prior to commencing flight training with us and you will be asked to complete and sign a form to confirm that you have read and understood the manual. You will be expected to adhere to the manual at all times whilst undergoing your flying training.

Our Chief Flying Instructor will be available to give you guidance and assistance before and during your flying training.

We will monitor your training throughout your scholarship programme which will include contact with you and we would like you to keep in touch with us throughout.

Flight training inevitably includes risk. It is important that you recognise, understand and accept the risks. It is imperative that you avoid taking any unnecessary risk throughout your flying training including not flying if you feel unwell or tired. You should discuss any matter or concern with the Chief Flying Instructor.

If you have any concerns or problems during your flying training, they should be discussed in the first instance with the Chief Flying Instructor. If they are not resolved then they should be raised with our Head of Aviation.

We encourage you to make use of social media to share your experience as you progress through your scholarship. We would ask that you are sensitive in choosing what you post being particularly careful not to publish anything which may damage or bring into disrepute the public reputation, name or image of Goodwood.

If you are selected for a scholarship programme you may be requested to take part in promotional activities and that your personal data, and, photographs and images of you may be used in any publicity by us. In accepting the scholarship, you are agreeing to the use of your personal data and images for such purposes. If you are under the age of 18, we may require that your parent / legal guardian sign a declaration of eligibility and liability/publicity release.

If for whatever reason you cannot complete your hours by 31 December 2025 any remaining hours must be used by 31 March 2026. Please discuss this with our Chief Flying Instructor in the first instance.

Once you have completed your scholarship you will be invited to attend an end of season awards evening at the aerodrome and you may be asked to say a few words about your flight training journey.
