The estate continually evolves and has been transformed over time to deliver unique experiences for the public to share and enjoy with the family. The primary purpose being to ‘Spoil yourself in Unspoilt Goodwood’.

Goodwood is committed to the long-term stewardship of the Estate, and delivering its events in line with its values of:

- Derring-Do – Daring to surprise and delight

Sustainability at Goodwood means a balance across all business activities and environmental protection, social progress and economic development, considering the needs of all interested parties. Goodwood has three sustainability impact areas with associated objectives.

Environmental impact

- Safeguarding our natural capital – preserving and enhancing our ecosystems, biodiversity and natural landscape.
- Follow the waste hierarchy, maximising our recycling rates and reusing materials as a priority, prolonging the life cycle of materials in use.
- Effective stewardship and conservation of our water resources.

Climate impact

- Measure our carbon footprint and take action to reduce our emissions, with carbon mitigation as a priority, followed by carbon sequestration within our own Estate and offsetting as a last resort.
- Adapt and prepare for future climate scenarios, managing climate resilience and risk.
- Invest in our own renewable energy, favouring production and consumption of our own green energy.

Social impact

- Strive to continually increase our social value, through initiatives such as charity engagement, volunteering and community programmes.
- Promote initiatives that positively impact our people, local communities and local businesses.
- To continue to provide outdoor learning opportunities to current and future generations through the Goodwood Education Trust
