

THE KENNELS

Weddings at The Kennels

For a quintessentially English wedding with an intimate feel, The Kennels is the perfect choice. As the private clubhouse for all of the Estate's sporting and social members, it offers personal service and a relaxed atmosphere.

Built in 1787 by celebrated architect James Wyatt to house the third Duke of Richmond's prized fox hounds, The Kennels was known as one of the most luxurious dog houses in the world. Today this classical Regency-style building mixes traditional character and contemporary style with historic references that reflect Goodwood's sporting heritage. The restaurant, bar and terrace enjoy splendid views across the spectacular parkland up to the racecourse.

We cannot wait to help you plan your special day. To book your show around, please speak to one of our Wedding Planners on 01243 520102.

A Day You Will Never Forget

We wish to make your wedding at Goodwood a day you and your guests will never forget. Our experienced team will help plan the day, down to every single detail and our insider network of trusted suppliers means we can recommend the best florists, fireworks and entertainment. On your wedding day our friendly team will make sure your guests have everything they need, while our Head Chef will work closely with you to deliver a mouth-watering menu.

The Kennels can be exclusively yours for the day, or there are a number of rooms ideal for smaller weddings.

Your Wedding

Exclusive Use

The Kennels can be exclusively yours. The classical-style and well-proportioned rooms offer a unique private space for your celebrations. The dining rooms, outside bar and terrace all enjoy breath-taking views of the surrounding parkland.

The Music Room

This charming room is lined floor to ceiling with one of the largest collections of Penguin books in the country, originally part of the Duke of Richmond's private family collection. The large windows provide plenty of light making it well suited to an intimate ceremony.

The Kennels Library

For a secluded space, The Kennels Library is tucked away upstairs. A vibrant mix of interesting artefacts, books and artwork create a relaxed atmosphere more like that of a private home.

Dining Rooms

With stunning views across the parkland and up to the racecourse, the dining rooms offer the perfect location for your wedding breakfast and a chance to relax and soak up the atmosphere. Classic British dishes are created from organic Goodwood Home Farm produce and locally sourced ingredients. Make the most of the stunning surroundings with access to the Terrace from the Dining Room.
